

Declaration of Intent of the Department of Special Investigation on Elevating the Department of Special Investigation to the Status of Model Agency of Integrity

The Department of Special Investigation is a government agency tasked with preventing, suppressing and investigating criminal offences which require special methods of investigation in accordance with the Special Case Investigation Act, B.E. 2547 (2004), enforcing laws pertaining to special crimes in line with international standards and the Good Governance principles. To this end, the Department of Special Investigation is cognizant of the fact that to ensure optimum justice for all, law enforcement professionals not only need knowledge and skills to lawfully enforce the law but also adhere to the desired integrity for the Thai society, religious doctrines, Sufficiency Economy Philosophy and Thailand's cherished cultural values – as guiding principles for leading one's life. These officers are anticipated to take part in elevating the Department of Special Investigation to the evident status of a Model Agency of Integrity in the society and to uphold the organization's values of "Dignity, Specialty, Integrity".

Thus, to affirm the intent to elevate the Department of Special Investigation to the status of a Model Agency of Integrity in accordance with the National Moral Promotion Action Plan Phase II (2023-2027), which establishes the goal that "Thai people demonstrate behaviors which reflect increased level of integrity and move towards a society of integrity, in which Thai people live in harmony in line with religious doctrines, Sufficiency Economy Philosophy and Thailand's cherished cultural values and free from corruption." It is therefore expedient to declare the intent to the government officials and employees of the Department of Special Investigation so as to mobilize the collective efforts to elevate the Department of Special Investigation to the status of a Model Agency of Integrity, guided by the principles of "self-sufficiency, discipline, honesty, public spirit and gratefulness", with determination to promote integrity in the organization, observance of Sufficiency Economy Philosophy and Thailand's cherished cultural values as guiding principles for leading one's life. The management and supervisors at all levels are also to play an integral part in instilling integrity in the general public, communities and network parties by acting as a role models and ensuring their subordinates' strict and appropriate conduct.
